DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 27-53 remain withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 6.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1-2, 5-7, and 10-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Billett. Billett discloses a dressing tool comprising all of the subject matter set forth in applicant's claims above. Note stainless steel or carbide substrate coated with a polycrystalline diamond layer having an array of projections.

4. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Myoung et al(US 6439986). Myoung et al discloses a dressing tool comprising all of the subject matter of applicant's claims above. Note various embodiments of dressing tool comprising a substrate of ceramic or metallic material with a pattern of projections coated with a carbonaceous layer of diamond. With regard to claim 2 the height of the "poles" on an intended workpiece is not limiting on the apparatus.

Art Unit: 3723

5. Applicant's arguments filed March 22, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments center around the point that the conditioning tools of both Billett and Myoung et al are intended for conditioning non-fixed abrasive polishing pads, which are of a different material than the fixed abrasive pads. However, the conditioning tools of Billett and Myoung et al are not limited in their use. In view of the fact that these references are applied against apparatus claims, they are still deemed to structurally meet the limitations as broadly set forth.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
